To Whom It May Concern:

GlobalGiving is happy to offer a letter of support for Comprehensive Disaster Response Services (CDRS). CDRS has been a GlobalGiving partner since April 2007 and has since complied with GlobalGiving's policies. GlobalGiving has disbursed more than $335,000 to support CDRS' work in Pakistan in the past eight years.

Founded in 2001, GlobalGiving is the first and largest global crowdfunding community that connects nonprofits, donors, and companies in nearly every country around the world. We are a 501c3 registered organization that makes it possible for more than 2,000 organizations to access the tools, training, and support they need to become more effective at making our world a better place.

GlobalGiving has completed a due diligence review of CDRS every two years since 2007 based on IRS guidelines for grantmaking. GlobalGiving's due diligence process includes three rounds of review of the organization's registration documents, organizational and founding documents, financial history, and projected budgets, program materials, and at least one letter of recommendation.

In addition, GlobalGiving requires that organizations agree to and sign our Non-Discrimination Policy, which specifies that an organization may not discriminate in its recipients of services on the basis of a person's race, political orientation, religion, gender, or any other status prohibited by law. Organizations must also sign our Anti-Terror Certificate and the names of board and senior staff members are cross-referenced with the database maintained by the Office for Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) maintained by the US Dept. of Treasury which contains names of specially designated individuals and entities with whom the US Patriot Act disallows any transfer of funds.

CDRS has submitted comprehensive reports on time and has been open and available for questions and inquiries. Please feel free to GlobalGiving with any additional questions. I can be reached via email at anadin@globalgiving.org or phone at 202-232-5784.
